

BUT WHY?

Child: Mum?
Mother: What is it dear?
Child: What are you doing?
Mother: I'm washing the dishes.
Child: Why?
Mother: Because they are dirty.
Child: What is that white stuff?
Mother: That's soapy bubbles, dear.
Child: What are THEY for?
Mother: To help clean the dishes.
Child: Why are your hands so soft?
Mother: 'Cos I use Tesco Blue and White Stripe
washing-up liquid.
Child: Why do you use Tesco Blue and White Stripe
washing-up liquid?
Mother: Because it is the cheapest.
Child: But why?
Mother: So I can save money.
Child: Why?
Mother: So I can buy lots of chewing gum.
Child: But why chewing gum?
Mother: So I can chew to soothe my nerves
...and cope with little boys/girls like you,
who ask lots and lots of questions!
Child: But why?
Mother: Och, ask your father!
